Source: IHS

Implication for FUCHS

Revolution – Complete switch to only EVs:

- No power train; reduced oil consumption
- New additional high value applications
- Sales per car would decrease slightly

Evolution – Mix of combustion, hybrid and electric engines:

- Efficiency requirements will drive demand for higher value applications
- Slightly lower volume of engine oils
- Additional applications for electric engines

Electrification is an opportunity for FUCHS to further strengthen its market leadership with technically advanced applications

Strong track record of integrating businesses
